Magnetics Committee

July 17, 2014

Workshop

At the PSMA Planning Meeting in Fort Worth, we were asked to conduct a workshop on high frequency magnetics. It has been slow getting started, but at the July committee meeting we made good progress. We plan to have monthly web meetings with an invited guest to speak for 20 to 30 minutes, with the rest of the hour devoted to discussion.

The sessions will be recorded, for the benefit of those who cannot attend, particularly those in Europe or Asia, with different time zones. We also will be trying to continue the discussions using an on-line forum of some sort, tentatively a member-only LinkedIn group. We also will try circulating a working document that people can add to, tentatively using MS OneDrive. Both are experimental at this time.

Matt Wilkowski has expressed a willingness to champion a workshop at APEC2016, perhaps with PELS as a co-sponsor.

Phase IV Core Loss Study

There is no activity on this, but we keep it on the agenda for future consideration. There is a definite possibility that something will come to our attention in the workshop that will inspire some testing.

Next meeting

The next meeting will be August 13, 2014 at 10:00 am CDT.
